GOULD ACADEMY

Opening the 1967 season, the Gould Academy cross-country team defeated Bridgton High and Oxford Hills High on the 2 1/2 mile Bridgton course on Sept. 21. While Suomela of OHH was the individual winner, Gould runners Neil Robertson (2), Dave Robertson (3), Craig Boyd (4), Paul Durgin (5) and Seth Timmerlake (11) accounted for the winning score of 25 to Bridgton's 46 and Oxford Hills' 4.

Today (Thursday) the team will meet Gorham, Maine, High School and Williams High School of Oakland, here at 4 p. m.

On Thursday, Oct. 5, they will attend a meet at Wilton.

Despite opening losses to Jay and Lisbon, the Gould Academy football team remains high-spirited and is hard at work for the game at Wilton Academy on Saturday.

Last week's game against a strong Lisbon team was a close and hard-fought throughout, and the feeling is strong that with the few short out of early season mistakes, the Huskies will gain their initial win on Saturday.

The Gould Junior Varsity football team opened its season in fine style on Monday by defeating the Oxford Hills Frosh, 6-2.

Behind 2-0 going into the final quarter, despite fine passing and running by Danny Vogt and Raymond Powell, the young Huskies were carried to victory by a brilliant 50 yard run by Johnny Trimward.

The next game for the Junior Varsity will be at home against the Mexico J. V. on Monday at 4 p. m.

MISSISSIPPI EDITOR TO SPEAK AT U. OF M. NEWSPAPER DAY PROGRAM

Hodding Carter III, editor of the Delta Democrat-Times of Greenville, Miss., will be the second annual Peter Eades Lecturer for the University of Maine department of journalism Oct. 30 to Nov. 3 and during his week's stay on campus will be the principal speaker at the university's annual Newspaper Day observance, Friday, Nov. 3.

Mr. Carter is the son of the founder of the Delta Democrat-Times, one of the first objective voices among Southern newspapers. The elder Carter has maintained a summer home in Camden for many years where his son spent vacations as a child.

Assoc. Prof. Brooks W. Hamilton, head of the U. of M. department of journalism, said that this year's Peter Eades Lecturer is financed by a grant from the Maine Daily Newspaper Publishers Association. The visiting lectureship was inaugurated last year to give students an opportunity to discuss ideas with newspapermen from other parts of the country. Last year's guest lecturer was Dr. Leslie Mueller, head of the School of Journalism at Iowa State University.

Peter Eades, for whom the series was named, was an editorial writer in Augusta and Bangor during the early 1890s and was one of the major influences for statehood for Maine.

During his stay on the Orono campus, Carter will speak to journalism classes and talk with individual students, as well as speaking at a university faculty seminar.

Newspaper Day Friday, Nov. 3, is an annual observance to which all Maine newsmen are invited. This year's event will open at 3 p.m. with an open house in the journalism department's new quarters in Lord Hall. Carter will speak at a dinner meeting in the Memorial Union at 6:30 p.m.

EXAMINATIONS ANNOUNCED FOR POST OFFICE POSITIONS

The Post Office Establishment Board, U. S. Post Office, Boston, Mass., has announced an open competition examination for filling substitute clerk and carrier and hourly rate regular positions in post offices in the state of Maine. This examination will be open until further notice.

Employment policy for both appointment and promotions has been based upon merit and full consideration will be given to all qualified employees and applicants without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, or political affiliations, or any other mannered factor.

The long standing requirement that an applicant must reside in the delivery area of the Post Office for which application is made has been eliminated. You may apply regardless of where you reside.

Applications will be accepted from persons who will (a) reach the age of 18 or reach the age of 16 and be graduated from high school within one year.

The list established from the examination will be used to fill both career substitute positions. The starting salary is $3.64 per hour with periodic increases up to a maximum of $9.00 per hour. There are many excellent employee benefits such as paid vacation, sick leave, group insurance and a group health insurance program with the Government contributing part of the cost, also a model retirement system.

Hourly rate regular positions. These positions occur only in large post offices. These hourly rate regular positions involve recurring, predetermined hours of duty of not more than 30 hours per week. An example of

1967 Expenditures	$2,340,000
1967 Receipts	2,040,000
Shortage	$300,000

II Explanation of increases and decreases in expenditures

A GENERAL CONTRACT

I Increased costs in construction from the original estimate of $14.90 per square foot to $15.50 per square foot. This represents an increase of 4% in construction costs from 1966 to 1967.

2 Change orders changes made on the building after the contract had been awarded to Brown Construction Company.

3 Increases in the square foot area of the building project from the preliminary estimated floor area to the completed plans of the floor area.

4 Increased cost of the sewage treatment plant from $20,000 to $30,000.

B EQUIPMENT

1 Increase in cost of equipment as a result of time lapse from original estimates made between 1965-66 and 1967.

2 Inclusion of the casework, cabinets, shelving, tables, etc., in the building normally figured under the general contract is figured into the equipment account in order to save the District additional funds.

3 Loss of equipment and materials from Gould Academy.

4 This was originally being planned for use in the new high school.

C ARCHITECTS FEES

1 Increased costs due to the increase in square foot cost and change orders on the entire project.

D CONTINGENCY — Decreased from the original amount because these funds were redistributed throughout the other accounts as they were needed.

E SITE COST — Increase of $1,000 was not shown on original budget because $1,000 down payment was taken from the operational budget in 1965.

F WATER SERVICE — Increase due to the problems encountered in drilling wells at the new site.

G CONSULTANTS FEES — Not shown on original budget due to the fact that these funds are reimbursable from the Bingham Retirement Fund.

H SITE DEVELOPMENT — Decreased because these funds were redistributed throughout the other budget accounts as needed.

I OFFICE OF THE WORKS — Funds were taken from the original agency fund when the work of the Works was done.

III Explanation of decreases of costs

A LOSS OF STATE SUBSIDY — When the original state subsidy was estimated MDEA (Maine Department of Education) funds were included in the original estimate. Since then MDEA has on $1,838,000 1st Year	on $1,358,000	Increase

Architect	100	87	13
General	440	310	130
Water & Sewer	100	100	0
Electricity	20	20	0
Site Cost	15	15	0

The importance of this referendum cannot be over-emphasized because it involves the future of the children of the district and will definitely affect their future. The Directors and Committee of 100 urge a vote Yes on the ballot October 3, 1967 for the $300,000 bond issue.

DINGLEY - BEAN

The Bethel Methodist Church was the setting of an attractive fall wedding Sept. 24, when Miss Bethany Sue Bean became the bride of Duane Francis Dingley. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Dingley of Manchester, Conn., formerly of Norway.

Traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Richard Littlefield, organist, and Mrs. Margaret Bean, soloist. Baskets of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her brother, Richard Littlefield, the bride wore a gown of Alacon lace with scooped neckline, bishop sleeves, and a full length cage-look skirt. Her veil of English illusion fell from a princess crown with a matching lace and pearl trim. She carried a cascade bouquet of stepanotis, baby's breath, white roses outlined with Mother-of-Pearl and Ivy with a white corsage in the center.

Miss Elinor Mills, East Camden, N. J., formerly of Bethel, attended as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Nanci Bean and Miss Pamela Dingley, sisters of the bride couple. They all wore matching floor length gowns of Nile green linen with scooped neckline and cap sleeves with Venice lace inserts, while a soft panel fell from the back neckline. Small Casini bows in matching color and fabric supported their circular face veils. They carried gold and bronze poms with matching fall colored ribbon.

Serving as best man was Glyde McAllister, Norway, uncle of the bridegroom. Ushers were Charles Whitley and Ronald Bane, cousins of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a gold colored sheath with matching coat and gold accessories. Her corsage was yellow roses and gold and bronze poms. Mrs. Dingley wore a green knit suit with beige accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride is a graduate of Woodstock High School and The Golden School of Beauty Culture. The bridegroom attended schools in Norway and is now employed at the Pratt and Whitney plant in Connecticut.
